ELTVILLE (ELFELD), a town of Germany, in the Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau, on the right bank of the Rhine, 5 m. S.W. from Wiesbaden, on the railway Frankfort-on-MainCologne, and with a branch to Schlangenbad. Pop. 3700. It has a Roman Catholic and a Protestant church, ruins of a feudal castle, a Latin school, and a monument to Gutenberg. It has a considerable trade in the wines of the district and two manufactories of sparkling wines. Eltville (originally Adeldvile, Lat. Altavilla) is first mentioned in a record of the year 882. It was given by the emperor Otto I. to the archbishops of Mainz, who often resided here. It received town rights in 1331 and was a place of importance during the middle ages. In 1465 Gutenberg set up his press at Eltville, under the patronage of Archbishop Adolphus of Nassau, shortly afterwards handing over its use to the brothers Heinrich and Nikolaus Bechtermnz. Several costly early examples of printed books issued by this press surviv, the earliest being the Vocabularium Latino- Teutonicum, first printed in 1467.

Obituary

"Somewhere in the scriptures it says that those who teach little children unto justice shall shine like stars for all eternity - Anna will be a very bright star."

The Sisters of Mercy lost one of their much-loved members with the death of Sr Anna Shanahan at Gunnedah Hospital, on January 16, at the age of 88. Born on December 8, 1916, in Uralla, Anna Hope Shanahan dedicated almost 70 years of her life to God and humanity.

The youngest of six children born to Thomas Shanahan and his wife Mary Louise Post, Sr Anna grew up with her brother and four sisters on a farm in the Uralla area. she entered the congregation of the Sisters of Mercy at Gunnedah on August 15 1935, with her ministry starting in 1938, the year of her first profession.

St Anna taught at St Xavier's primary School until 1940 when she was appointed to Inverell, where she taught fulltime and looked after boarders. She took her final vows in 1941.

From there her ministry included Moree, Malabar, Emmaville/Deepwater, Armidale, Moree, Narrabri, Walcha and Gunnedah. Some of the other ministeries Anna undertook included visitation of homes, hospitals and nursing homes, care of orphaned children, acting as sacristian in parish churches, teaching commercial work, volunteer work with St Vincent de Paul, Catholic Women's League and Meals on Wheels.

In her later years Sr Anna became a resident at McAuley Hostel where she endeared herself to staff and residents and was described as being a quiet and welcoming presence for others.

St Anna died at Gunnedah Hospital with her older sister Lil, a Sister of St Joseph by her side. Sr Anna was predeceased by her parents, brother Thomas and sisters Mary, Lucy, and Gertude. She is survived by her sister Lil (Sr Valerian), of Hunter's Hill.

The farewell Mass was held in the Convent of Mercy Chapel on January 18, followed by internment at Gunnedah Memorial Park (Catholic Viewpoint Vol 14 No 1. 20 February 2005)
